Target Audience:

The target audience is all hospital, university, health department professionals, physicians, or staff working with continuing medical education or continuing professional development.

Objectives:

Upon completion of the activity participants should be able to:

- Update their CME processes with the most recent changes to the ACCME criteria;
- Explain the Continuum of Care in continuing medical education;
- Describe the opportunities discovered from the trends associated with the data from the ACCME Program and Activity Reporting System (PARS);
- Recognize the expanded definition of a commercial interest and the compliance failures that could occur by not using the complete definition;
- Explain the components of a compliant resolution of conflict and disclosure listing;
- Relate best practice ideas and solutions to CME program challenges through direct contact with other providers, ACCME representatives and key speakers;
- List the continuing medical education compliance issues associated with the Sunshine Act;
- List the continuing medical education compliance issues associated with the Accountable Care Act;
- Use new emerging technologies to create a personal learning network to simplify one's lifelong learning process;
- List the key 'take-home' points from the recent 2014 Alliance meeting and
- Describe common challenges and solutions from discussions with other CME professionals through the networking.
